SAN'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Every Mother should have it in the house for colds, coughs, colic, croup, cholera morbus, Toothache, burns, bruises, sprains or strains; it is the sovereign cure. All who use it are amazed at its power and praise it ever after. It soothes every ache, every lameness, every pain, every muscular soreness, everywhere, whether internal or external, and in nine cases in ten speedily relieves and cures. Johnson's Anodyne Liniment was originated in 1810, by the late Dr. A. Johnson, an old fashioned Family Physician, to cure all ailments accompanied with irritation and inflammation.

The Real Danger from every known ailment of mankind is caused by inflammation; cure the inflammation and the inflammation is Inflammation is manifested outwardly by redness, swelling and heat; inwardly by congestion of the blood vessels, growth of unsound tissue, fever, pain and disease. The vital organs form over complete plan, mutually dependent; therefore inflammation anywhere is felt more or less everywhere, and impairs the general health of any person.

INFLAMMATION

Inflammation accompanies bruises, bites, stings, burns, scalds, chaps, cracks, strains, sprains, fractures, etc., and is the chief danger therefrom. Internal inflammation frequently causes forward swellings; as instances in similar manner in pimples, toothache, stiff joints and rheumatism. Yet the great majority of internal inflammations manifest no outwardly visible sign, for which reason they are often more dangerous; as, for example, pneumonia, peritonitis, appendicitis, etc. For full information of cure of all inflammatory diseases, and for our book INFLAMMATION and Cure of Sick Room, sent free by mail. Of The Session of The Maine Legislature.

The Usual Interesting Exercises Pertaining to The State.

Pres't Day of Senate and Speaker Larrabee Take their Offices.

Three Ballots Necessary in Caucus To Settle Attorney Generalship.

Nominations for Other State Offices Made Wednesday Night.

[Special to The Daily Courier.]

Augusta, Me., Jan. 6. The Senate and House organized promptly today by the election of the officers nominated at the caucuses Tuesday night. As is usual on such occasions the opening proceedings were witnessed by a number of interested spectators. The oath was administered by the Governor and Council.

In the Senate Mr. Day was unanimously elected as president and on taking the chair expressed in few words his appreciation of the high honor conferred as well as the responsibilities involved and assured the members that it would be his constant aim to administer the duties of the office so as to receive their approval as well as the approval of the people of the State in whose interest they were assembled. After the election of subordinate officers Messrs. Clayson, Pike, Reynolds, Sharp, Hinckley, Roberts and Merrill were appointed a committee to count the gubernatorial vote in the recent election.

In the House the first event was the Drawing of Seats which is always attended with interest. By vote of the House, Representative Dickey, of Aroostook, and Representative Palmer, of Penobscot, were accorded the privilege of selecting their seats. Mr. Palmer has a seat in the middle of the house and was up to the front. Mr. Stetson was not very lucky in the drawing as his seat is on the side and some distance back.

A curious incident occurred in connection with Mr. Pearl's seat. At the caucus Tuesday night he took a seat directly behind that now occupied by Mr. Palmer. This morning when he entered the chamber it happened that he took the same seat, while the drawing was in progress. When his name was called a member near him remarked: "You better draw that seat." Mr. Pearl went to the clerk's desk, drew a number from the box and when he looked at it found that it was 1, the very seat he had been occupying. Returning he said to the member above referred to: "Now see if you can do as well." The gentleman laughed and then did exactly what Mr. Pearl had suggested. The incident would not happen once in a hundred years.

Mr. Larrabee was Elected Speaker and on taking the chair made a brilliant address, urging upon the members the importance of a conservative action, while at the same time making adequate provision for all needed legislation. He spoke for about ten minutes without notes and held the close attention of every one present.

On the part of the House the following members were designated to count the gubernatorial vote: Messrs. Whelden, Briggs, Gilman, Blanchard, Hutchinson, Searle, McIntyre, York, Rounds, Floyd, Gurney, Partington, Bearce, Martin, Cartwright and Gowell.

Executive Council.

First District, Edward S. Marshall, York.

Second District, Elias Dudley Freeman, Cumberland.

Third District, R. C. Boothby, Androscoggin.

Fourth District, Fritz H. Twitchell, Sagadahoc.

Fifth District, Elmer P. Spofford, Hancock.

Sixth District, Henry W. Mayo, Penobscot.

Seventh District, Veranus L. Collin, Washington.

The first two members of the Council are old members and of course perfectly familiar with the duties which they are so well able to discharge. The new members are all men of experience in State affairs so that Governor Powers will be surrounded by wise advisers.

Pleasing Presentations and Banquet.

One of the pleasant events connected with official life at the capital occurred this afternoon, when Gov. Cleaves was made the recipient of three articles from the heads of the several departments. But a few beside the officials were present, the invited guests being Gov.-elect Powers, Hon. A. R. Day, Hon. Orasmus del Smith, and E. C. Perry, Esq. The gathering was presided over by Hon. S. W. Carr.

The first present was a most beautiful and costly clock presented by the heads of the several State departments. The case of the clock is in Cloisonne enamel with gilt trimmings. The face is in gilt with Renaissance decoration in enamel. The pedestal is of Algerian onyx with Cloisonne and gilt decoration.

The presentation was made by Hon. L. T. Carleton in his usual bright and pleasing way. Gov. Cleaves responded feelingly, alluding to the loyal support he had received from the several departments and expressing his deep appreciation of their tokens of esteem.

The second present was a loving cup from the military department, the presentation being made by Gen. Selden Conner.

The third present was the gavel used in the council, it being presented by Hon. J. C. Holman in behalf of the executive council.

The presentations and acceptance by Gov. Cleaves were touching and impressive, and in a measure indicated the close sympathy and good feeling existing between Gov. Cleaves and the several State departments.

Following the presentation an elegant banquet was held in the capital cafe, being attended by those present at the presentation. The whole affair was most successfully planned and carried out and will be a pleasant remembrance to those who for two years have labored together as State officials and whose close personal friendship will continue for years to come.

Caucuses for State Officers.

This evening was held the joint Republican legislative caucus for State officials and it was a very interesting session. All nominations were made by acclamation except for attorney general, for which office three ballots were necessary. There were four candidates: Messrs. Haines, of Waterville; Appleton, of Bangor; Noble, of Lewiston, and Selders, of Portland. There has been great excitement and interest over the canvass. The first ballot resulted, G. M. Selders, Portland, 70; W. T. Haines, Waterville, 74; F. H. Appleton, Bangor, 22; F. L. Noble, Lewiston, 10. No choice.

The other nominations were as follows:

Secretary of State, Byron Boyd, Augusta.

State Treasurer, F. M. Simpson, Carmel.

State Assessors, O. M. Bayford, Canton, and Wm. C. Marshall, Belfast.

Public Printer, C. B. Burleigh, Augusta.

Public Binder, H. E. Smith, Augusta.

All nominees will be unanimously elected tomorrow, when Governor Powers will be inaugurated.

A DEEP LAID PLOT

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 6. The Globe today publishes a cable which it says has been sent to Protestant clergymen and leading citizens throughout Ontario. It is dated Rome, Dec. 28, 1896, and is headed, "Patriotic Vigilance Committee" and marked "Confidential." It begins as follows:

"The gravity of the crisis brought upon the country by the result of the elections of June last and the encouragement thereby given to the disloyal elements of our population, have originated the formation of a patriotic vigilance committee by a few citizens determined to maintain by all means in their power the honor and integrity of the British flag and the Dominion of Canada."

Proceeding, it says that an insidious conspiracy has for several months been at work through all the combination aiming at the overthrow of the authority of our gracious sovereign the Queen and others and the annexation of our beloved country to the United States; that behind what is ostensibly a political movement is plainly to be seen the hand of the Roman Catholic church, the ever watchful enemy of Protestant liberty."

It adds: "Although several members of the present government are believed to be thoroughly and sincerely loyal the fact that the government of Mr. Laurier owes its majority to the disloyal element does not hold out the hope that they can successfully cope with the crisis in which we are."

"The committee calls for the organization in every electoral district of a patriotic vigilance committee to ascertain the views of all when there is reasonable ground for suspecting of being in sympathy with this conspiracy and to take such steps as may suggest themselves to check its further spread and manifestation."

The Loud Bill Amending the Postal Laws Passed by House.

Washington, Jan. 6.—There were not more than a dozen senators in the chamber today when the chaplain offered his opening prayer and the galleries were almost deserted. The report of the secretary of the navy in relation to the cost of construction of armor plate was presented and referred to the committee on naval affairs.

An adverse report from the committee on foreign relations on the claim of John S. Waller, United States consul at Madagascar, for damages by reason of his arrest and imprisonment was presented and indefinitely postponed.

A resolution was offered by Mr. Hale, Rep., Me., and agreed to calling on the secretary of state for a statement concerning the action of the President or the secretary of state touching the recognition of any foreign people or power as an independent government and the corresponding action of other branches of the United States government.

The resolutions offered yesterday by Mr. Call, Dem., Fla., in relation to the confinement of Julio Sanguilly, an American citizen by the Spanish authorities in Cuba, to perpetual imprisonment in chains was taken up and Mr. Call addressed the Senate. His opening remarks were directed towards the case of Charles Govin and, to the report thereon from Consul-General Lee which was presented to the Senate yesterday.

Mr. Call discussed the statements of the Spanish officers as to Govin having died of wounds received in battle and insisted, on the authority of a person whose name he declined to give, but who was a person of character, that Govin, a citizen of the United States and who was in Cuba as a newspaper representative, had been seized, tied to a tree and cut to pieces with machetes by a squad of cavalry.

The statement, he said, had been made by a person who stood high in the consideration of all who knew him, who had received official recognition by the American people in the course of official promotion and who had been an officer of the government.

Referring to the case of Sanguilly, Mr. Call read from a statement to the effect that Sanguilly, also an American citizen, had been guilty of no offence whatever and that nothing has been or could be proved against him. There had been no evidence of any complicity of Sanguilly with the insurgents or of any purpose by him.

Mr. Call's resolution was agreed to and his joint resolution demanding Sanguilly's immediate release was referred to the committee on foreign relations. The Senate then at 1:30 p. m. went into executive session.

The Senate took up the Call resolution in relation to the condemnation of Julio Sanguilly in Cuba by the Spanish.

Mr. Call referred to the case of Chas. Govin who, he said, was cut to pieces by Spanish soldiers. He said Sanguilly had been guilty of no offence. These cases, Mr. Call said, were types of what was occurring to hundreds of American citizens in Cuba. "What matters it," he said, "that they were natives of Cuba? What matters it that they reside in Cuba? That is their right. The prisons of Cubanos and Morro Castle are full of them. These prisons are stained with the blood of American citizens. It only requires careful investigation of these facts by the Senate that the cover may be taken off this scene of butchery."

Referring to objections from commercial bodies that interference might lead to war, Mr. Call asked when the God of business was to be allowed to suppress the demands of humanity. "Lack of public spirit, he asserted, was "worse than the danger of war. There could be no prosperity in a country where there was no sense of patriotism and no national honor. As to the suggestion that European powers would interfere on behalf of Spain, Mr. Call declared there was no danger of any such combination. European statesmen would be restrained by consideration of the effect such a course would have on the masses of their own people.

"It is very easy to perceive that the sympathies of mankind and the sentiment of all Christian people would be with the American republic in such a struggle." There was no advocacy of war in his propositions. There was no disrespect to them to the Spanish government, whose methods in Cuba had marked a long period of Spanish decadence. There would be no respect for the government which failed to protect the lives and liberties of its citizens. The spectacle was one that belittled the people and government of the United States in the consideration of the nations of the world.

The people of Florida, Mr. Call said, were closely connected with the people of Cuba and there was a constant intercourse between them. Many of the American people in the employ of official promotion and honor on a high order of intelligence and had been men of large wealth. He was informed there were but a few native Cubans who were not engaged in the rebellion. Sanguilly happened to be one of those who were not. Sanguilly appealed to the United States to release him and let him return to the protection of the United States. Mr. Call hoped the question would not be postponed nor buried; but that the joint resolution demanding the immediate discharge of Sanguilly would be passed without undue delay.

The resolution calling for correspondence in the case of Sanguilly was agreed to and the joint resolution instructing the President to demand Sanguilly's immediate release was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations—Mr. Call stating it had been prepared by an American in Havana, a man of high character.

The Senate bill to amend the act repealing the timber culture laws was passed.

Mr. Pettigrew (Rep., S. D.) stated that it applied only to lands of the great Sioux reservation. The House bill to provide for the appointment by brevet of active or retired officers of the United States army, was amended in some slight particulars and passed.

The Senate joint resolution requesting the government of Great Britain to pardon Mrs. Florence E. Maybrick as an act of magnanimity—reported adversely last session—was taken from the calendar and indefinitely postponed.

The House bill, providing for free homesteads on the public lands in Oklahoma territory was taken up. The bill as it passed the House applies only to public lands in Oklahoma. As reported back from the Senate Committee on Indian Affairs it applies to all public lands acquired from the various Indian tribes. Another committee amendment provides that "all sums of money now released, which if not released would belong to any Indian tribe, shall be paid such tribe by the United States." Mr. Pettigrew explained the bill.

He urged that it was in line with the policy of developing the settlement of new western States.

In the course of discussion letters were read from the Interior Department and from the government land office stating that the bill, if restricted to Oklahoma, would result in a loss to the government of over fifteen million dollars, and if applied to all lands acquired from the Indians would result in a loss of over thirty-five millions. Mr. Pettigrew read from the platforms of the Republican and Democratic parties clauses approving the bill.

The bill went over without action and the Senate adjourned.

The House.

Rising to a question of privilege Mr. Grosvenor (Rep., O.) offered resolutions calling upon the heads of departments to explain why they had not responded to the resolution introduced by himself in the House on the 20th of May last and adopted June 8, asking certain information regarding the operation of the civil service law. The resolutions were adopted without division.

The House went into committee of the whole to further discuss the Loud bill to amend the postal laws by excluding from second class matter "sample copies" and serial novel publications.

Mr. Milliken opposed the bill.

Mr. Loud (Rep., Cal.), author of the bill, was the last speaker. Answering a statement by Mr. Bingham that the gentleman "dared not" infringe upon the right of the great dailies and weeklies of the country and periodicals to transmission at second class rates, despite his (Loud's) in the report accompanying the bill, "that it is the duty of the government to not alone treat all of its citizens in theory alike, but to do so in fact," Mr. Loud said if he could, he would require every publication, of whatever nature to pay the government for transmission through the mails what it cost. In securing legislation it was necessary to concede conditions and often to do that which was right it was necessary to compromise with the devil.

The committee had presented the bill for the consideration of the House, believing it to be wise and just. Referring to the assertion that the passage of the bill would cause the suspension of the publication of many worthy and desirable productions, Mr. Loud said the full effect of its operations would not be felt for four years, working as gradually against to produce injurious effects without due warning.

Mr. Tracey (Rep., Mo.) moved to amend the first section of the bill, which amendment Mr. Loud said would destroy the effect of the section.

Mr. Simpkins (Rep., Mass.) asked Mr. Loud if the bill in any way tended to interfere with or injure newspapers and was told that the law relating to them was absolutely untouched. The amendment was withdrawn.

Further discussion proceeded by general consent, with no amendment pending. Mr. Cummings (Dem., N. Y.) opposed the bill. Mr. Moody stated that in his opinion the country newspapers were being made catspaws of by the big publishers particularly affected by the bill; that their best interests would be served by the passage of the bill and, despite some protests received by him from newspaper publishers in his own district, he should vote for the bill. Mr. Cummings read a telegraphic protest from the Stationers' Trade Association, in session in New York, against the passage of the bill and, commending the list to Mr. Moody, he read the names of fifty or sixty firms in Massachusetts.

Mr. Moody—None of whom live in my district.

"What," almost shouted Mr. Cummings to Mr. Moody, who sat immediately in front of him, and to the great amusement of the members who had gathered about him, "have you no state pride? Is state pride so dead within your breast that the manufacturers of the state who do not reside in your district are compelled to telegraph to a Representative from New York to represent them when their interests are menaced on the floor of the House?" (Laughter.)

When Mr. Moody could get the floor he replied spiritedly to the criticism implied in Mr. Cummings' question. "I do possess some state pride," he declared, "that desires to represent the state of Massachusetts upon the floor of the House. I believe I can best do that by considering first, not the selfish interests of the people of my own district, but those of the whole state and of the whole union. Believing this bill is in the interests of the people, against those of the few which have been fostered by the present law, I shall vote for the bill." (Applause.)

The hour of four o'clock having arrived the bill was reported to the House without amendment and the question of its engrossment was put. A yea and nay vote resulted—yeas, 141; nays 105. Thereupon the bill was passed without a division.

The House then adjourned.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Tacit Understanding that Cameron Resolution Will Not be Pushed.

Washington, Jan. 6. The Cameron resolution recognizing the independence of the Cuban republicans not discussed at this morning's meeting of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations.

Although the Cuban resolutions were not discussed this morning owing to the absence of Mr. Cameron, the members of the committee talked about the resolutions informally after the other business had been finished. It seems certain from the temper of the committee that if the effort is made to have the Cameron resolutions referred back to the committee there will be a bitter fight and the committee will endorse its action in ordering the report and resolutions, which are now on the calendar.

Such an effort is not anticipated for Mr. Hale and those who are with him are satisfied with the present condition of things and will do nothing to start the agitation.

Members of the committee appreciate the strength of the organization that has been effected to prevent final action by the Senate and there appears to be a tacit understanding that the resolution shall not now be pushed.

The Pacific Railway Question.

The House Committee on Pacific Railways held a short meeting today to consider the manner in which debate on the bill to settle the indebtedness of the Union and Central Pacific companies to the government should be conducted when the bill came before the House. The bill will be called up tomorrow and the vote will be taken on Monday next. It will be vigorously opposed by the members of the Pacific slope and others who favor governmental ownership of the roads in preference to an extension of the time for paying the indebtedness. The opposition will include some of the strongest debaters in the House and the discussion is expected to prove of more than ordinary interest.

Mr. Powers, of Vermont, chairman of the committee, says, the friends of all have made careful canvasses of the houses and while they do not agree as to the vote it will receive, it is not doubted by any that it will secure a majority vote. Mr. Powers has assurance from the Senate that a majority in its favor will be found in that body and he believes the bill will become a law before the fourth of March. If the bill does not become a law it is not doubted that the government will forgiveness its mortgage and thus assume the payment of the sixty million dollars which constitutes the first mortgage lien and which practically represents the present value of the roads.

A CALAIS FIRM

Failed to Receive Contract for Lynn Building.

Washington, Jan. 6. Bids for the erection and completion, except the heating apparatus, of the public building at Lynn, Mass., were opened at the Treasury Department today. L. L. Leach & Son, of Chicago, were the lowest bidders, at $59,000.

Nineteen other bids were received, including the New Brunswick Red Granite Co., of Calais, Me., for $61,800.

BOOQUET OF IMPS.

Waterbury, Conn., Jan. 6. Five young boys were arrested at 3 this morning in the cellar of a vacant house, with the booty of several burglaries committed in the city lately. The five comprised a well organized gang, which has been doing systematic jobs in the city for a year and displaying great cleverness.

Thomas Tracy, aged 16, the leader of the gang, has only been out of the reform school a year; Jos. Thayler, aged 15, is a well known thief; John Rudd, aged 10, was implicated in a recent highway robbery in which a young woman was knocked down and robbed; and Murphy and Milhollan, each 14, complete the party. They will be tried tomorrow.

Spanish Cabinet Waiting for Another Fake Story

Madrid, Jan. 6. A formal denial of the statement that it is the intention of the government to supersede General Weyler as Captain General of Cuba is published in the Epoca, an inspired organ, today.

Cubans Prospering.

New York, Jan. 6. Delegate Palma of the Cuban Junta in this city gave out the following statement this afternoon: "I have received a letter from Gen. Lacret, in charge of the Matanzas province, who, the Spaniards claim, was killed several weeks ago. Gen. Lacret writes that everything is prospering in his province and the Cubans have started two newspapers, which shows they are not always fighting. He further states he is expecting Gen. Gomez in his province and is making preparations to receive him. He reports everything within the Cuban line prosperous."

Jack's Fake Yarn.

Baltimore, Jan. 6. Arthur P. Jack, a young man with Gomez' army since last May, acting as newspaper correspondent part of the time, arrived last night en route to his home in Virginia. The Cuban troops have plenty of food, such as it is, consisting of plants and fruits, but their chief anxiety is about artillery, which is of great importance to them. They have an abundance of small arms and ammunition and have a good supply of dynamite which they use effectively in exploding mines and blowing up railroad trains. He says there is no doubt of the death of Maceo, and states that he was present when the body of that general was buried in the mountains 8 miles from where he was killed.

Mr. Jack is impressed with the belief that the Cubans will win the struggle for freedom.

They are fighting desperately, he said, and are daily receiving accessions to their numbers. In speaking of the reported expulsion of the Spanish soldiers he said numbers of cases had come under his observation where children of insurgents had their eyes put out, or their heads cut off.

Weyler Will Have to Fake up Good News.

London, Jan. 6. A dispatch from Madrid says the postponement of the usual Wednesday cabinet meeting until Friday caused great uneasiness and gave rise to rumors that a ministerial crisis was imminent. It is considered more likely that Weyler has been ordered to send good news at any cost before the next cabinet meeting.

Jack is a Jackass.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 6. A. B. Jack, now in Baltimore, quoted as saying he has been in Gomez' camp, was arrested in Jacksonville in October, for obtaining meals under false pretences and was sentenced to 60 days in jail. Instead of having returned from Cuba, Jack has just been released from a coffee camp.

Another Edict.

Havana, Jan. 6. Another edict has been issued by Weyler regarding the ownership of estates and employment, etc.

A party of insurgents last night attacked Arroyo Naranjo, a town close to Havana. They were repulsed.

A large meeting of merchants, planters and others was held tonight.

After a hot discussion it was resolved to send a cable to Madrid expressing their loyalty and regret at the attacks of the Madrid press upon Weyler, and requesting that Weyler be continued at the head of the administration in Cuba.

Money Returning.

Key West, Fla., Jan. 6. Mr. Money passed through here tonight en route to Tampa.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 6. The supreme court yesterday made a ruling which renders tax titles practically invulnerable. Louis Sands, a wealthy Manistee lumberman, in common with other extensive owners of timber lands, has been wont to let his land be sold for taxes, his programme being to contest the tax titles and have them set aside. A tract of his property was sold last year by the state for taxes of 1891 and in yesterday's decision the court affirms the sale. The opinion says that all irregularities in the proceedings previous to the sale are foreclosed by the confirmation of the sale and that the tax law was designed to make people pay their ta

Getting Under Way.

The Legislature is now organized so far as the election of the officers of the two branches are concerned and next week will get down to the business of the session. The caucus nominees of Tuesday night were elected as soon as the oath had been administered by the Governor and Council. The presiding officers in both branches are experienced legislators and will doubtless keep matters moving rapidly once the actual work begins. Of course nothing can be done until after the committees are made up. The announcements will be made when the Legislature meets next week.

To-day the inaugural ceremonies will take place. As soon as he has been installed in office Governor Powers will deliver his inaugural address which will be published in full in THE WHIG Friday morning. The Legislature will then adjourn until next week.

The Executive Council.

Governor Powers will have an excellent Executive Council. Two of the members of the present Council, Messrs. Marshall, of York, and Freeman, of Cumberland, will be returned. Both have proved themselves most efficient men and their experience will render their services doubly valuable during the coming two years. Of the new men most of them are entirely familiar with State affairs. Mr. Boothby is the one exception so far as actual service is concerned, but he is a business man of well recognized ability. Mr. Twitchell has been Mayor of Bath and has represented the city in the Legislature. He is a business man. Mr. Spofford is a lawyer and was a member of the last Senate. Mr. Mayo is also a lawyer and has served in both branches of the Legislature. Mr. Coffin is one of the leading business men in his county which he has represented in the Legislature. All the members are men of sound ideas and conservative judgment and will discharge their duties with fidelity and ability.

State Officers.

The joint convention of the Legislature nominated State officers Wednesday evening. The next Secretary of State will be Hon. Byron Boyd who for some time past has very acceptably filled the office of deputy. He is a young man with an old head on his shoulders, to use a homely expression. An graduate of Colby College he at once took an active part in State matters and enjoys a very extensive acquaintance among the prominent men of Maine. For some years he has been the very efficient Secretary of the Republican State Committee. Mr. Boyd will undoubtedly make an able and very popular head of the State Department.

For State Treasurer the services of the present able incumbent, Hon. F. M. Simpson, will be retained. Few men in the State have had more experience in its public affairs than Mr. Simpson who has discharged the duties of his position in a way to win the commendation of all, his renomination by acclamation being a merited recognition of faithful service.

For Attorney General the contest has been a very earnest one on the part of the two leading candidates. While there will naturally be a feeling of disappointment at the fact that Mr. Appleton was not the nominee of the convention, there will be at the same time a feeling of satisfaction that inasmuch as the choice did not fall upon him it did go to Hon. William T. Haines, of Waterville, who was the second choice of practically if not all, of Mr. Appleton's friends. Mr. Haines is a well known member of the legal profession, a man experienced in public affairs and will, we believe, make an able officer.

For State Assessor Hon. William C. Marshall, of Belfast, will succeed himself. He was appointed by the Governor to succeed the late Hon. Hall C. Burleigh and has proved a most efficient member of the board. Hon. A. M. Hayford will also succeed himself.

English Testimony.

The New York Herald says duties "may enable producers to produce, but will they enable consumers to consume?" As the Herald is very fond of anything English, you know, it may find an answer to its question in the following statement made by Mr. Mulhall, the eminent English statistician, referring to the progress of the United States from 1880 to 1890, as shown by the last census: "It would be impossible to find in history a parallel to the progress of the United States in the last ten years. Every day that the sun rises upon the American people it sees the addition of two and one-half millions of dollars' to the accumulation of wealth in the Republic, which is one-third of the daily accumulations of all mankind outside of the United States." These ten years and the years preceding were years when the duties enabled the producers to produce and the consumers to consume to an extent unparalleled in the world's history. Wonderful as was the prosperity of that decade it was increased in 1892 and it was not until the Democratic idea of duties that did not enable the producers to produce that this country started on the slide downward. The people applied the brakes last November and now it is proposed to face about and return to prosperity along the same pathway by which it was attained in the past.

McKinley Promises.

The Chicago Times-Herald says: Two months have scarcely passed since the McKinley plan for restoring prosperity was definitely preferred to the Bryan plan, and although McKinley's inauguration is yet two months in the future the Bryanites are even satirical in their clamor for results.

The distinct feature of the situation traceable to the election is the abundance of money which the country as a whole possesses. That being the one thing needful, according to the free silver people, they ought to be hopeful of the future. It did not come through their agency, but it is here. It may not bring instantaneous results; nobody but themselves said it would. It may not be the only thing needful; nobody but the silver men said it was. As a basis upon which to build up a new business prosperity the boon so long sought for by them is of the utmost importance and is ridiculed.

and savings banks in New England into the offices of the numerous defunct loan and trust companies of the West. He did not promise that the memory of a decade of watered stocks, sand-bank mortgages, cornfield additions, boom town confidence games and general extravagance on other people's money would immediately fade from memory, or that the burnt child would not be wary of fire. He did not promise that a great crop of soft corn should bring as good a price as a moderate crop of sound corn, or that oats of poor quality should sell as well as good quality. He did not promise that a State like Iowa could lose $15,000,000 worth of hogs in one year by disease—a sum equal to the silver product of Colorado—and have just as much money to spend in Chicago as though it had not lost them.

The McKinley promise was to give peace and security to the country; that under that condition money would appear in ample quantities, that under an ample revenue the problem of the gold reserve would disappear, and that with the tariff so adjusted as to protect home industries and open reciprocal markets, the genius and energy of our people would promptly work out the wished-for prosperity. The supply of money is now in sight and Europe owes $30,000,000 more, which would come if those to whom it is due knew what to do with it here. And yet more will be available as railway earnings and other profits become attractive and as the tide of investment slowly turns back to us. The McKinley prosperity is to be based on the production and exchange of actual wealth by an industrious people, and can't be done over night with a lead pencil. It is to be growth, not inflation. It won't be fast enough to suit the methods of some people, but the country has had enough of their rapid gait and its consequences to last some time.

Continuation of Lady Scott Criminal Libel Case.

London, Jan. 6.—Today's proceedings in the suit of the action of Earl Russell against Lady Scott, his mother-in-law, and others for criminal libel began with the opening of the case for the defence.

John E. Walton, M. P., counsel for Lady Scott, made the opening speech, the court room being crowded with friends of Lady Scott, who had assembled to hear her defence. Mr. Walton contended that Lady Scott had not persecuted Earl Russell as alleged, but had only interfered in behalf of her daughter, Earl Russell's unhappy wife.

Alluding to other defendants counsel said that Kust, even upon his death bed, had not shown any sign of wishing to remove a cloud from his conscience by retracting anything that he had previously said.

Memorial Window Unveiled.

Mrs. Gladstone unveiled the memorial window to the Armenian martyrs in the Hawarden church this forenoon. Before the ceremony of unveiling the window, Mr. Gladstone delivered a speech to an Armenian deputation in which the ex-premier said that, although the agitation in behalf of the Armenians had failed to arouse the six great powers to had an unquenchable hope that the triumphant career of wickedness of the greatest assassin in the world (meaning the sultan) was doomed to be short lived.

Plague Causing Panics in Bombay.

A despatch from Bombay says that the panic there arising from the plague has spread to the police, many of whom have abandoned their duties and sought safety in flight. Much valuable property is thus left unguarded.

Dr. Marsen, senior physician of the original hospital in Bombay, died yesterday from the bubonic plague, which is epidemic here. The authorities of the Indian government at Calcutta have sent Dr. Cleghorn, the director general of the medical service of the government, to Bombay to investigate and report upon the increase of the plague in this city. Despite the panic which prevails, hundreds of victims of the plague refuse to accept medical treatment regarding the disease as a visitation of God.

It is estimated that in the aggregate 225,000 persons have fled into the country from this city, carrying the contagion to places where it did not previously exist or where there are only a few cases of the disease.

More Victories Reported—Weyler Not to be Recalled.

The despatches assert that there are only a few small bands of rebels left in the provinces of Pinar del Rio and that these are fast melting away.

A formal denial of the statement that it is the intention of the government to supersede Gen. Weyler as captain-general of Cuba is published in the Epoca, an inspired organ, today.

Insurgents Said to Have Surrounded.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Senor De Lome, the Spanish minister has received telegrams from Havana stating that Gen. Melquizo had returned from an incursion into the hills of the province of Pinar del Rio and brought in 8 with him 270 insurgents, who had surrendered and about 500 non-combatants.

THE COUNCILLOR FIGHT.

Petition Against Allen Dismissed.

Boston, Jan. 6.—The latest development in the contest for the seat in the governor's council between the Hon. John H. Sullivan, Democrat, and Isaac B. Allen, the colored Republican, is the dismissal of the petition, which was brought in the supreme court some time ago by Counsellor Sullivan.

The action may lead to the decision of the ballots over which there has been so much controversy. This latter step has not been decided upon yet as the board of election commissioners is waiting to hear from corporation counsel Bailey, who has been asked for an opinion on this point.

SPECIAL SALT TRAIN.

Throttle of Engine Opened by Major McKinley by Electricity.

Silver Springs, N. Y., Jan. 6.—One hundred and sixty cars loaded with 2,150,000 pounds of salt left here today consigned to New England firms. The throttle of the engine on the first section was opened and the train started by a unique electrical contrivance operated by wires from President-elect McKinley at his home in Canton. Mr. McKinley touched a button in his library, the current flashed over the special wire into the cabin cab and the throttle opened.

The train was the Worcester salt special, bearing a consignment of orders to New England, which had been given a continuous open President McKinley's direction. The train will go over the Erie railroad to Jersey City and thence by the Consolidated road to Boston.

The electrical device by which the train was started was the invention of H. G. Spaulding of Boston, who came here expressly to operate it. A large crowd was gathered about the train and as it started there was great cheering.

Several weeks ago the Kulklux tried to do him bodily harm but he escaped. Yesterday they came again, forty-strong. They fired on them, killing one, who was deaf and blind, and badly wounding another, who was carried off by his companions. The dead man proved to be Combs' nephew, John Hensley.

Yoke Fellows

Many women work too hard. There is no question about that. If they did not have love for a yoke fellow they could never do the daily degrading drudgery of life. But they bear it cheerfully and buoyed up by loving thoughts of husband and children.

But when physical weakness or disease is added to a woman's burden it becomes altogether too heavy. No woman can be cheerful or hopeful who is dragged down by constant pain or physical wretchedness.

The special weakness peculiar to the female sex, are now easily overcome if the remedy be given proper attention. But if allowed to go unchecked they are likely to develop into more serious complications.

Any woman afflicted with these delicate ailments ought to have the full facts and of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a perfect and positive specific for all diseases of the female organism. It was devised for this purpose and accomplishes this purpose as no other medicine has ever done.

For nearly 30 years Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., where he has treated with his staff of associate specialists hundreds of female complaints.

No physician has had a more extended opportunity to study the diseases of women in actual practice. No medicine ever invented has done for women what this Favorite Prescription has done.

Telotel Answers Questions.

First—Of what man of influence or intelligence to express publicly and propagate the principles of life which he considers to be truth?

Second—Is it worth while to try to know oneself perfectly?

Third—By which principles can a man know at a decisive moment what is right, justly, in the consequence which it produces, and whether it is truly his own, or corrupted by natural weakness?

To the first two Telotel answered: To the third he replied that enough in general to be defined and therefore it must be left to the evidence of his to decide."—New York World.

English Versus German Universities.

If the two to be judged by the fruits we shall find it difficult to dispute the proposition that university education at all events must be directed upon the physical necessities and own more satisfactorily managed in Germany than England. The theoretical and technical output of Germany is far more regular and of better quality for practical purposes than our own. It proceeds by that German process of absorption, which is more and Though Prosperity Comes, Forget Not Your Family's Future.

No fact is more indelibly inscribed on the pages of our history than this—prosperity comes to every generation. We are looking for it now with eager eyes and confident hope. There are many indications of its early advent. Millions of men are expecting to take advantage of it when it comes and make liberal provision for those they love if, alas! some of them will not be here to reap where the harvest ripens, and their present expectations will be worthless assets. Prosperity is on its way to us. It will come sooner or later. Some of its results can be made secure for dependent families by assuring life now. Those who neglect to secure, are risking their families to great risks—the risk of being deprive of all the results of the prosperity that is coming by reason of every-day event as death. Is here prudence or common sense or justice in such neglect?

There will be a meeting of the Citizens' Association this evening at 7 30 o'clock.

THE WHIG has received from Mr. Franklin A. Carleton, local manager of the Union Mutual Life Insurance Company, a generous supply of desk pads and blotters of a very convenient arrangement.

Fear & Dennett have paid George W. Lane, of Lewiston, $1,000 on Marion & Palmer $1,500 in full settlement of his loss by fire of 2,500,000 shingles stored in the Leslie & Heal storehouse at Livingston, which was burned on December 18.

Mr. J. S. Halsey, of Stockton, Cal., left Wednesday on his return home after a visit in this city. Mr. Hale left Bangor forty-one years ago and his was his first visit here since. He is a prominent man in Stockton and is a large property owner.

The annual meeting of the corporation of the Home for Aged Women in Bangor will be held at City Hall Board of Trade room, on Thursday, the 14th instant, at 2 30 o'clock, for the purpose of choosing officers and the transaction of any other business that may properly come before the meeting.

The slab agent enforces the law of 1868 which forbids the dumping of sawmill waste into the rivers. The salary is about $900 annually. The position has been held for two years by one man who is now retired after very efficient service.

Many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Milton S. Clifford will be pained at the announcement of the sudden death of Phyllis, their infant daughter, which occurred on Wednesday noon suddenly, of heart disease. The running horse, Yorktown, formerly owned and ridden by Thomas Leasch, of Bangor, and now owned by Andrew Stafford, of Bar Harbor, had a narrow escape from being killed recently. Mr. Stafford has been laying a new floor in his stable and had turned seven horses out in the yard, among them Yorktown. The horse started for his stall and at the first step went down between two beams, one of which fortunately broke, letting him through into the cellar, from which he was taken without injury.

Funeral of Hon. A. D. Manson.

The funeral services of the late Hon. Augustus D. Manson, who died in Boston, on Monday, were held in the Unitarian church in Bangor on Wednesday at 2 p. m. There was a good attendance of friends and former associates of the deceased. Previously the body had been met at the morning train from Boston and carried to the church for prayers.

Rev. Seth C. Beach conducted the services. He read appropriate portions of holy and modern literature, and the Apollo Quartette sang an appropriate selection. Mr. Beach followed with a well chosen address.

After the remarks by Rev. Mr. Beach, the quartette sang again, and then the benediction was pronounced.

Potato Trains

Editor Whig and Courier:

THE WHIG AND COURIER of December 31st, in referring to the special train of potatoes sent out by me last Thursday, makes the following statement: "This is the first shipment of a whole train load of potatoes that was ever made by the Bangor & Aroostook railroad." I presume your reporter meant to have said that it was "the first shipment of a whole train load of potatoes ever made by the B. & A. railroad and made by one person." As a matter of fact, my special train was followed sixty minutes later by the regular, hauling a solid potato train of twenty-one carloads, which is a daily occurrence, while special trains frequently are sent out, as the business of the road may demand. Will you kindly make the correction.

Yours truly,

AMUSEMENTS.

The Bride of Seville.

The second performance of the comic opera "The Bride of Seville" at the Opera House last night under the auspices of Pine Cone Council, No. 113, Knights of Columbus, was greeted with a packed house, notwithstanding the snow storm which prevailed during the evening. It was both a very large and a very highly pleased audience as every moment contained something of an amusing or interesting quality.

The presentation was smooth and effective throughout. The principals sang and acted with spirit, harmony and grace and the chorus again did their share in a most commendable and pleasing manner. The drills and dances were nicely executed and indeed every detail of the performance was carefully looked after. Numerous encores were given. The orchestra again played with good effect.

The concluding performance will be given this evening and another large audience will, without doubt attend.

The Gormans.

The favorite entertainers, the Gormans, will appear at the Opera House next Monday night in their laughable and interesting farce comedy, "The Gilhooleys Abroad." The Gormans have for years been known as among the cleverest of the many clever minstrels before the public. In minstrelsy, they lacked that wide scope for the exercise of their talents which farce comedy affords, and it is pleasant to note that in "The Gilhooleys Abroad" the wide field afforded is amply utilized in a display of their abilities. A most capable company has been secured, the costuming is up-to-date and the piece has enough incident to keep spectators interested throughout the version. There are said to be many new features in the last season's presentation here.

Before the meeting of the union the board of managers, which is made up of two ladies from each church in the city, held its regular monthly meeting. At the meeting of the union the reports of the treasurer, Mrs. C. H. Wood, and the secretary, Miss Madelino Giddings, were read by those officers. They showed the union to be in good condition. The following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year:

Basket Ball.

It is probable that the State basket ball league will soon be formed with teams from Bangor, Rockland and Bath as Mr. C. M. Bursley, physical director of the Bangor Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, who started the movement for the league, has received favorable replies from Bath and Rockland. The first game will be on Thursday of next week in this city, Bath vs. Bangor. It is probable that a regular schedule will be arranged in a short time.

The game is a very interesting one, requiring much practise, activity and team work and is somewhat similar to foot ball. It is the winter indoor game and is very popular in several of the States where it is extensively played. Bangor boys have a good team to meet the other strong teams which will come against it during the season of the league.

FIFTIETH ANNUAL Meeting of the Central Church Wednesday Evening.

The fiftieth annual meeting of the Central Congregational church was held at the church vestry last evening. The attendance was large and the exercises very interesting. The vestry, which has been greatly improved and beautified during the past year, presented a very attractive appearance, the walls artistically decorated for the occasion, the tables bountifully laden with choice viands and the general effect heightened by profuse floral decorations. At 6 30 o'clock the large party seated themselves around the tables and participated in a delicious collation, the young ladies serving the same in a very satisfactory manner.

After full justice had been done to the refreshments Rev. John S. Penman, the accomplished pastor of the Central church, addressed the assemblage in brief felicitous words. Clerk E. M. Blanding submitted his annual report, showing a present membership of 305, a net gain of 4. During the year 30 have been added by profession and 6 by letter, and during the same period 6 have died. One died on a previous year but not before reported and 11 have been dismissed to join other churches. Those who have died during 1896 are Mrs. Charlotte W. Upton, Daniel Holman, Mrs. Mary B. Goodenow, George S. Farrington, John H. Jarvis and Mrs. Ann French Penney. The clerk called attention to the peculiar interest which attaches to the coming year, the fiftieth or golden anniversary of the Central Congregational church being close at hand.

It was early in 1847 that the Central church was launched upon its mission. It was February 2 of that year when the Central Congregational Society was legally formed. It was February 4th when was held the first formal meeting preparatory to forming a church and the last Sabbath in February, the 28th, the society commenced separate worship in the old Market Hall. A council was called to meet April 1st, 1847, and on that day the church came into existence. The clerk in closing urged that this golden anniversary be observed in a manner worthy of such a notable event.

The pastor in graceful words called upon Rev. George W. Field, D. D., to respond to "Lands of the Central Church." The Doctor was in his happiest mood and his brilliant words were greeted warmly, especially the high testimonial he paid to the beloved pastor.

Deacon J. S. Johnson was invited to speak for "The Deacons" and he gave many interesting reminiscences regarding the early days of the Central church.

Deacon J. G. Blake responded to the sentiment "The Church as a Religious Force," speaking as he always does, very earnestly. Prof. John S. Sewall was invited to speak of the "Evangelistic Spirit of the Church," and his response was eloquent and inspiring. General Secretary Robert A. Jordan, of the Y. M. C. A., made earnest and felicitous remarks, his toast being "Laymen and the Church." Rev. Mr. Penman, in brilliant and burning words discoursed on the theme "The Future of the Church."

It was the unanimous sentiment to observe the coming golden anniversary of the church and it was voted to leave the arrangements for the same with the pastor and board of deacons.

Mr. J. G. Clark paid a high tribute to the late Daniel Holman, the model sexton, as follows:

Mr. Holman was among the first members of the Central church and was the first sexton of the church, which office he held, when in the city up to the time of his death. Mr. Holman was singularly efficient in the duties of sexton. A man of excellent judgment, always on hand, prompt and painstaking in the care of the church, pleasant, polite and accommodating. We as much expected to meet him on the Sabbath, with his pleasant smile and good morning, as we did the pastor.

Bro. Holman was a true patriot, a brave soldier in the war of the rebellion, and when peace was declared was received with a warm welcome at his old place in the church.

I therefore offer the following resolution:

That in the death of Brother Holman this church has lost a worthy and devoted member. That we as individuals have lost a much esteemed friend and brother whom we hope to meet in the better country.

Treasurer George S. Hill, submitted his report showing church contributions during the year of $2,068 67.

Letters of regret were read from Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dalton, and Miss Abbie C. Walker, of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Averill, of Houlton.

The meeting closed with the singing of the Doxology and benediction by Rev. Dr. Fick.

HARD BLOW DEALT

By the Gorman-Wilson Tariff Monstrosity.

The Free Wool Clause of the Bill Characterized as a Crime.

Destructive Blow to American Shown Up a Tariff Hearing.

Washington, Jan. 6. The tariff hearings before the Ways and Means Committee were continued today, raw wool being the schedule under consideration.

John G. Clark, of Pennsylvania, a member of the National Wool Growers' Association, opened the hearing. The free wool clause of the Wilson bill he characterized as a crime. Since its passage the price of grazing lands had been depressed and only about one-half of them were utilized. He would not ask an extreme rate of duty, but simply one which would perpetuate the business and give growers a chance to live. If a rate of this character was given farm lands would be utilized for wool growing and the American farmers would be able to produce all the wool used in this country.

William Lawrence, of Ohio, president of the National Wool Growers' Association, hoped that the next Congress would give the wool growers a proposition equal to that given the most favored industries.

He argued in favor of specific duties saying that the "ad-valorem system was the most damnable system ever produced by a set of rascals." He asked prohibitory duties on foreign rags and shoddy. About eighteen million pounds of shoddy per year was now imported, which was equal to about fifty-four million pounds of wool. American manufacturers had been driven to the use of shoddy in order to compete with the cheap foreign manufactured articles imported.

Theodore Justice, of Philadelphia, dealer in all grades of wool, spoke for the consumers who, he said, had been injured by free wool. In a year there was a loss by this schedule alone to the American people of $42,000,000. The loss to mill hands and laborers by free wool was about $35,000,000 during the last year. Wool growers of New York, he said, lost on an average of $1,840 per annum while saving on clothing about 98. Speaking of wool as a question of war, Mr. Justice called the attention of the committee to the condition in which the country would find itself in case of war with Great Britain, if the American wool clip decreased as it had been doing. He pointed to the condition of the continental troops under General Washington at Valley Forge, and the condition of the confederate soldiers during the late war. In discussing the various tariffs he said under the law of 1867 the wool industry prospered and increased and if it remained in force until 1895 he asserted that American sheep, at the rate of increase while the law existed, would have produced 670,000,000 pounds of wool annually, or sufficient to amply fill our demands. The law of 1883 he characterized as the worst ever enacted so far as the wool interest was concerned. Under it the number of sheep had decreased 17 per cent in five years. From 1888 until President Cleveland's election the industry, under a ten per cent. rate, prospered.

A ten cent rate, he challenged, was adequate. The industry again suffered from 1893 to 1896, the number of sheep decreasing 25 per cent., while the industry abroad had increased. In this country the term "carpet wools" should be abandoned and wool costing ten cents a pound and under should be classed as "third class." Qualities of such wools are now being used in blankets and clothing. Whatever duty was placed on this class of wool would be purely for revenue and would not affect the industry in this country. Under the McKinley bill the importation of shoddy amounted to about one-fourth of a million pounds per year. For the first year under the Wilson law it amounted to 23,000,000 pounds. This displaced sixty million pounds of wool annually.

In reply to a question by Chairman Dingley, Mr. Justice said the demand for cheap clothing increased under the Wilson bill. These clothes could not be made of wool so the demand for shoddy increased. The demand for cheap material was on account of the reduction in wages. Under the McKinley law a good wool suit sold for about $10. Workmen made sufficient to buy them. Under the Wilson bill wages diminished and the demand was for suits worth about $8. Under the operation of the McKinley law 41 million pounds of cloth were imported, on which a duty of $27,000,000 was paid. In 1895, under the Wilson bill, the importation averaged three times as great while the duty only doubled.

G. C. Moses, of Bath, Me., importer and manufacturer, said if the course advocated by Mr. Lawrence was adopted it meant death to the manufacturer, and would restrict important industries. He had too much confidence in the sense of the conference to believe it would draft a measure of this kind. He was not against an adequate duty on wool, but he objected to the prohibitive duty suggested by Mr. Lawrence. Such a tariff would close the mills of the country and force merchants to buy their cloth abroad.

He understood the committee intended placing a specific duty on wool. He hoped this would not be the case. As far as wool was concerned a specific duty could not be adjusted to operate with facility as the conditions of wool coming from different countries differed so greatly.

Delegate Catron, of New Mexico, said under the McKinley law his territory produced some eighteen million pounds of wool per year. Under the present law the production has decreased as has the price, the decrease in the latter item being about 11 cents per pound.

J. W. Smith, of Layton, Utah, president of the Utah Wool Growers' Association, stated what Delegate Catron had said of the conditions in New Mexico applied to his state. What the wool growers of Utah wanted was a fixed tariff. They also desired a specific duty on wool. One which would raise the price to about 16 cents per pound would satisfy the growers of Utah.

W. H. Brown, a manufacturer of Philadelphia, asked for a duty of ten cents on noils and waste.

He hoped when the question of "skirted wool" came up the workmen would be remembered. He wanted an additional duty on this class of wool which would give men here a chance to sort wools and not have this done abroad.

C. M. Hogg, of Ohio, manufacturer and wool dealer, advocated a conservative bill. He did not desire to go as far as Mr. Lawrence, but asked that a difference be made in the "skirted" and "unskirted" wool.

The committee adjourned until to-morrow.
